Well, today, 840401, this is at last the Socialist Union of Soviet Republics joining the Usenet network and saying hallo to everybody.

One reason for us to join this network has been to have a means of having an open discussion forum with the American and European people and making clear to them our strong efforts towards attaining peaceful coexistence between the people of the Soviet Union and those of the United States and Europe.

We have been informed that on this network many people have given strong anti-Russian opinions, but we believe they have been misguided by their leaders, especially the American administration, who is seeking for war and domination of the world.
By well informing those people from our side we hope to have a possibility to make clear to them our intentions and ideas.

Some of those in the Western world, who believe in the truth of what we say have made possible our entry on this network; to them we are very grateful. We hereby invite you to freely give your comments and opinions.

Here are the data for our backbone site:

Name: moskvax
Organization: Moscow Institute for International Affairs
Contact: K. Chernenko
Phone: +7 095 840401
Postal-Address: Moscow, Soviet Union
Electronic-Address: mcvax!moskvax!kremvax!chernenko
News: mcvax kremvax kgbvax
Mail: mcvax kremvax kgbvax

And now, let's open a flask of Vodka and have a drink on our entry on this network. So:

      NA ZDAROVJE!

Focus online: „Das World Wide Web mag 23 Jahre alt sein, sein Vorgänger noch älter. Das Internet hat sich in diesen 23 Jahren allerdings so sehr entwickelt, das es kaum wiederzuerkennen ist.“

Seit 23 Jahren – jetzt muss ich rechnen... Wir befinden uns also im Jahr 1990. „Sein Vorgänger“? Hatte das WWW „einen“ Vorgänger? Echt jetzt?

Unendliche digitale Weiten. Seit ~~einem Jahr~~ vielen Jahren kreuzt die Enterprise nun durch die Galaxis Crosspoint durch das Internet. Da begegnete mir etwas Seltsames, was ich hier dokumentiere...
