

Nobody knows what's going on

Mike Hearn (via Fefe) über das Bitcoin-Experiment: „Why has Bitcoin failed? It has failed because the community has failed. What was meant to be a new, decentralised form of money that lacked 'systemically important institutions' and ,too big to fail' has become something even worse: a system completely controlled by just a handful of people. Worse still, the network is on the brink of technical collapse.“

Die Sache ist also gestorben.
