A Massive, Black Sarcophagus Has Been Unearthed in Egypt, And Nobody Knows Who's Inside

Should we open it?

DAVID NIELD 11 JUL 2018

Archaeological digs around ancient Egyptian sites still have plenty of secrets to give up yet – like the huge, black granite sarcophagus just discovered at an excavation in the city of Alexandria, on the northern coast of Egypt.

Science Alert: A massive, black sarcophagus has been unearthed in Egypt, and nobody knows who's inside. “

Schon klar, was jetzt kommt. IFLScience: „Archaeologists consider opening that gigantic black sarcophagus and, yes, everybody is making the same joke.“

Har har. Auf Twitter sieht man schon die ersten Bilder.
