

Meme Ban?

IFLScience: „The European Union (EU) just signed off on a bunch of controversial new copyright laws that could massively change your online experience.

It's been described as everything from a „dark day for internet freedom“ to „one of the most contentious decisions in the European Union's history.“ So, what's all the controversy about? And – the real question on everyone's mind – does this actually mean the EU is banning memes?“

Dazu gibt es eine informative Analyse von RA Thomas Stadler: „Die Grenzen zwischen Lobbyismus und Journalismus verschwimmen“.