

Punishing Quotas oder: Was macht eigentlich das Großkapital?

Es zittert ein wenig: „Amazon will block and flag employee posts on a planned internal messaging app that contain keywords pertaining to labor unions, according to internal company documents reviewed by The Intercept. An automatic word monitor would also block a variety of terms that could represent potential critiques of Amazon’s working conditions, like “slave labor,” “prison,” and “plantation,” as well as “restrooms” – presumably related to reports of Amazon employees relieving themselves in bottles to meet punishing quotas.“ (via Fefe)

Die müssen ganz schon unter Druck stehen, wenn sie zu so dämlichen Maßnahmen greifen. Die Gewerkschaft ist übrigens unabhängig. „Amazon Labor Union’s Guerrilla“ – sehr schön!
