

Unabhängige westliche Medien, revisited

The screenshot shows the BBC News website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the BBC logo, a search bar, and various menu items like Home, News, Sport, Reel, Worklife, Travel, Futurs, and Culture. Below this is a red banner with the word "NEWS" in white. Underneath the banner, there is a secondary navigation bar with links to Home, War in Ukraine, Coronavirus, Climate, Video, World, UK, Business, Tech, Science, Stories, Entertainment & Arts, Health, World News TV, and More. The main content area is titled "War in Ukraine" and features a grid of news articles. The largest article on the left is titled "'You can rebuild Mariupol - you can't bring back the dead'" with a sub-headline "Russia captured Mariupol in May after a brutal siege. Now, it's trying to win hearts and minds." and a timestamp of "1d | Europe". To its right are three smaller articles: "Zelensky honours unarmed soldier filmed being shot" (1d | Europe), "Heavy losses reported as battle for Bakhmut rages" (25h | Europe), and "Has Putin's assault on Ukraine's power grid failed" (3d | Europe). Below these are three more articles: "Ukraine hit by hypersonic missiles in new barrage", "Ukraine nuclear plant loses power after strikes", and "Ukraine denies targeting Moldova separatist leader".

„The government has awarded a one-off payment of £20 million to the BBC World Service as part of the refresh of the Integrated Review. (...) The BBC World Service is vital in the fight against the spread of disinformation around the world.“
