– „Israeli television show Eretz Nehederet, meaning ‘wonderful country’, has poked fun at Western liberal support for the Hamas terrorist organization in a new clip.“

– Jamie Palmer (Fathom): (2017) „The Left and the Israeli-Palestinian conflict: The path to righteous hatred“. „Palestinians today are similarly ennobled, not by their doctrine, but by statelessness and oppression, and mere details cannot be allowed to complicate the monochromatic liberation narrative of large parts of the Left. If Palestinians persecute and jail their own LGBT citizens, well that’s their business and who are we to judge their cultural mores, anyway?“

– Seth J. Frantzman (Jerusalem Post): „Israel left Gaza, but the result was immediate rocket fire. Hamas exploited the power vacuum to use its stronghold in Gaza to win Palestinian elections and then to expel Fatah from Gaza, and create a small totalitarian terror state. This convinced Israel that any withdrawal from the West Bank would result in another

“Hamastan” in the West Bank and rocket fire on Tel Aviv. Israel may have cynically exploited the division between Hamas in Gaza and the Palestinian Authority in the West Bank.”
